"Have You Forgotten?"

September 11, 2001. The “Where were you?” moment for a generation. Like Pearl Harbor and the President Kennedy assassination, it is a date that will never be forgotten. Or will it? Those of us of a certain age remember the shock and horror of the planes, the flames, the crumbling of buildings. We also remember the moment when we realized this was an unprecedented terrorist attack on American soil. We also remember the solidarity and unity that our whole nation felt. I remember being at the high school football game that Friday. The playing of the National Anthem felt so much more meaningful. The country came together as one. Republicans, Democrats, black, white, northerners, southerners, rich, poor. It didn’t matter.

But then time wore on and all those feelings subsided and the divisions returned. Darryl Worley wrote a song entitled, “Have You Forgotten?”. It reminded us of the horror of that day and the unity that was on display. It questions how quickly things returned to the status quo. What surprised me was that the song was released in March 2003, less than 2 years after the attacks. 2 years!

In Galatians 1:6, Paul writes, “I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting the One who called you”. He could have asked the question, “Have you forgotten?”. When we think back to our conversion. Our moment of salvation. Our “come to Jesus” time. We were filled with thankfulness, gratitude and a desire and commitment to live our lives for God. But is it possible that with time, we forgot? Our desire and commitment diminished? We must not forget. We must be constantly reminded of all the blessings and responsibilities we have in Christ.
